They say

This is an entirely new concept in skincare requiring a new classification: 'shielding lotion'. A shielding lotion keeps moisture-robbing irritants away from the skin while the proprietary super-humectants hydrate it throughout the day.

You say

"This felt like Johnson's Baby Lotion. It was very thin on the skin and was effective, but no more so than other products I've used. My skin did feel protected for many hours afterwards though"

Did you know?

If you suffer from eczema, Skin MD can be a less clinical way to treat the problem and you can even use it on your face, particularly if you suffer from dry skin there. Use as a daily moisturiser for reliable protection during the harsh winter months.
